AUGUST 18, 1981

The Class of 1985 assembled for the first time in Room 153 Evans Hall, ignorant of the events which would transform them from "student" to "Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine". The first two years were devoted to learning the fundamentals of medicine. A student's day was no longer his own. Time revolved around labs, infinite lectures, more labs and the oppressive test schedule. Perhaps the hours spent in the classroom are best chronicled by the students "lifeline"-the Note Service.

The daily production of lectures required the services of everyone. Two hundred and five aspiring D.O.'s soon became proficient scribes, typists, mimeographers and lunch-time collators. Bored with pure medical facts, the scribes and typists began to interject humor and cynicism throughout the notes. In the process, an informal but realistic documentation of the first two years at PCOM was created.

Advice, Admonishments, and Academic Pearls were offered by the Faculty and Administration during our course of study.

Some of these infamous "Words of Wisdom" . . .

"He learned his anatomy by observing the actions of small woodland creatures."
Sherwood Mercer, D.O.
"Never take anything for granted."
Virginia Thompson
"Women were made for one thing - childbearing."
V.T. Cipolla, D.O.
"I love mycoses."
V. Iralu, Ph.D.
"Just because the husband gets a vasectomy doesn't mean the milkman gets one too."
Brian Campbell '85
"No one should flunk the course . . . just read the notes once."
Sherman Leis, D.O.
"Anyone can do an amputation."
"An orthopod"
"I don't really care if there is a yearbook."
Donald Thome, D.O.
"If you can't do your H & P's, go home. You're not just here for an education."
R. Anderson, D.O.
"If you and your girlfriend were on call the same night, would you be upset if you couldn't sleep together that night?"
Steven Katz, D.O.

"Duly informed, we proceed onward through the fog . . ."

"CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION: A SHARPENING FOCUS

With the ever-increasing regulatory measures being taken in the medical world, the importance of continuing medical education has become even more evident . . . The American Osteopathic Association has been a leader in developing programs of continuing medical education . . . (it) should not be considered simply as a regulatory requirement. It is a profitable, useful education opportunity for the physician and allows his or her to keep pace with rapidly occuring developments and procedures.

George W. Northrup, D.O., FAAO"

"Darkness falls across the land
The midnight hour is close at hand
Creatures crawl in search of blood
To terrorize y'awl's neighborhood
And whosoever shall be found
Without the soul for getting down
Must stand and face the hounds of hell
And rot inside a corpse's shell
The foulest stench is in the air
The funk of forty thousand years
And grizzly ghouls from every tomb
Are closing in to seal your doom
And though you fight to stay alive
Your body starts to shiver
For no mere mortal can resist
The evil of the thriller"

DSM III

Diagnostic And Statistical Manual Of Mental Disorders

301.50 Histrionic Personality Disorder

The essential feature is a Personality Disorder in which there are overly dramatic, reactive, and intensely expressed behavior and characteristic disturbances in interpersonal relationships. Individuals with this disorder are lively, dramatic and are always drawing attention to themselves . . . Behavior is overly reactive and intensely expressed . . . Individuals with this disorder crave novelty, stimulation and excitement and quickly become bored with normal routines . . . They are often quick to form friendships; but once a relationship is established they become demanding, egocentric, and inconsiderate . . . these people's actions are frequently inconsistent, and may be misinterpreted by others.

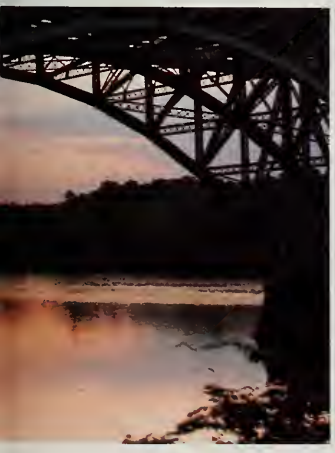
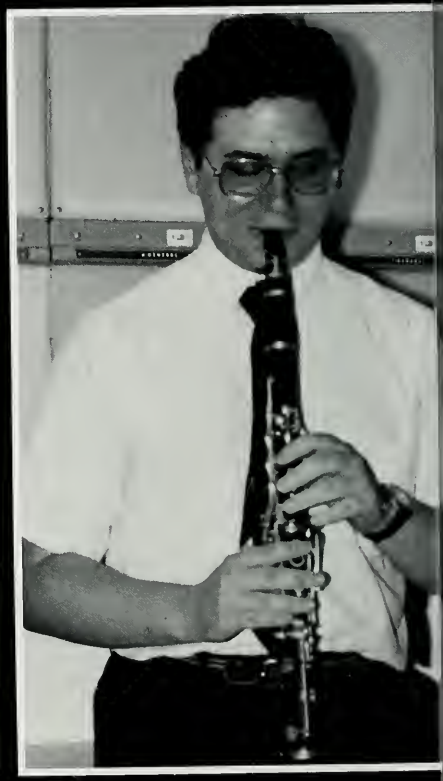
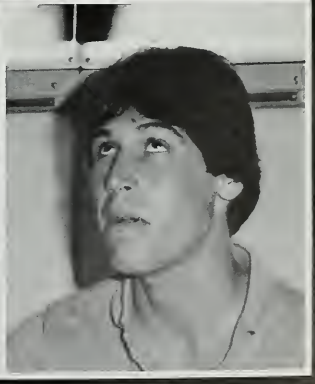
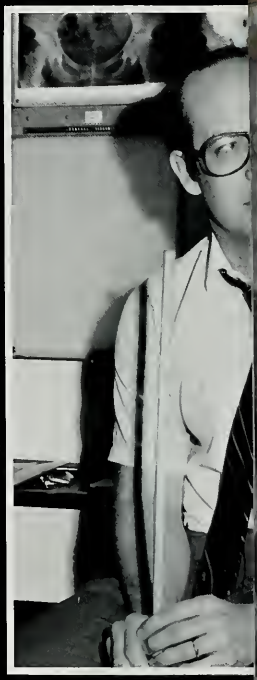
The Scenic Beauty Of Philadelphia's Schuylkill River

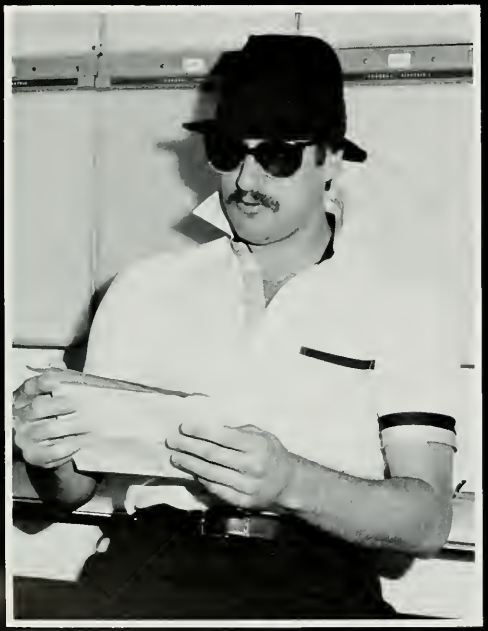


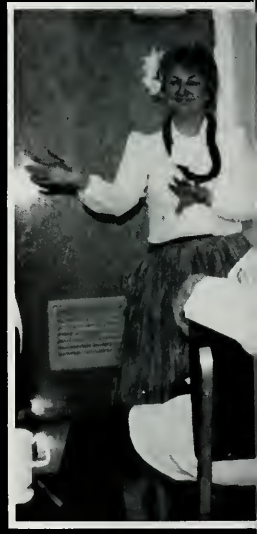
Radiology







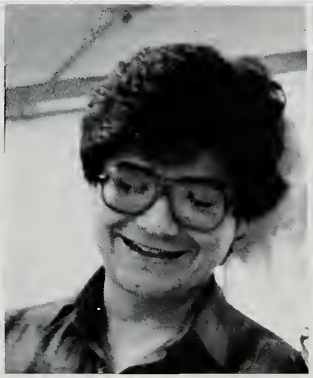




He has a smile from ear to ear
Then asks you questions that you fear
You must tell a joke or sing a song
A meager task for being wrong

You snicker at his one desire
The burning hots for Lucy Squire
And how he corners all the dodgers
Who think he's just like Mr. Rogers

But all in all you learn the stuff
And if you don't you learn to bluff
Because we all know that the key
Is to name every single bone density



I just signed Howard Goldman's name.

Flounder's Day Follies

First Year

During the annual Follies production, the Class of '85 presented their interpretation of freshman year at PCOM. Host Dr. "Big Nick" Nicholas (Ralph Mazzochetti) began by profusely complimenting his son Alex (Harry Anagnastakos) on his amazing ability to palpate hair through telephone books. The cervical spondylitic, Dr. Kline (Dave Madder), introduced "The Dating Game" starring Jim Lange (Jack Kelly). The four eligible faculty, Dr. V.T. Cipolla (Sal Moscatello), Dr. Knauff (Marc Shapiro), Dr. Misantone (Bob Kuhnhenn), and Dr. Becher (Steve Fisher), verbally jousted for their dream date, "the ultimate carcinogen", Dr. Y.C. Lin (Steve Young). The lucky winner, Dr. Knauff, later reported that "she phosphorylated my substrate."

Ballerinas Jeff Bishop, Brian Campbell, Jack Chiavacci, Chuck D'Auria, Tony Magdalinski, Pat Murphy, Keith Parowski, and Bob Schmidt revealed shapely legs and gracefulness in "Medical Men in ¾ Time."

Dr. Meals (Steve Young) was discovered at an exotic Continuing Medical Education program, enthralled by the rhythmical dancing of King Kumonaiwonnalaia (John DeGhetto).

Dr. Mercer (Marc Shapiro) lectured the audience on furry woodland creatures and the origins of osteopathy. Unfortunately, he did not have the physical stamina to finish his words. Thanks to the work of surgeons Carol Robison, Bob Kuhnhenn and Tim Gaul, and the famous anatomist Frank Buttery (Bob Verdone), a miraculous metamorphosis took place-a "new" Dr. Mercer (Ron Neff) was sculpted.

Dr. Roger's Clinic represented an irreverent study of contemporary family practice. Dr. Rogers (Tom Ziemba) and his helpful assistant, Nurse MyBuns (Debbie Hermany), treated the hypochondrial Mrs. Katz, (Arlene Imber) and the streetwise Rocco (J.B.). Charles Bell, Drug representative from Eli-Lilly-White, interrupted their office routine bearing nonsensical gifts for all.

The concluding act was a rowdy musical performance by our own punk rock band. The V.T's, featuring Dave Madder, Tony Conti, Jack Coll, Dave Coffey, and Mark Franz.

SECOND YEAR

The 1983 Follies starred Dorothy (Kathy Ryan) and her fetal pig Toto in "The Wizard of Osteopathy." Carol Fox (Carol Holobinko) and Bob Cuzzolino (Dave Heyman) decided that Dorothy must seek the wise Wizard Big Nick (Ralph Mazzochetti) before pursuing a career in Osteopathic Medicine.

Her first encounter is a group of singing and dancing surgeons in "Wouldn't you like to be a surgeon too?" She then meets the somnolent Good Fairy of Pathology, Lillian Hynes (Mary Conti). Dorothy is then directed to Ziggy Gladstone (Sal Moscatello), a sincere but confused pathologist desperately seeking the courage to make a decision. Together they enter the strange, dark world of neuroanatomy, where the faculty have become pure cerebrum.

Dorothy and Ziggy stumble upon Physiology/Pharmacology and meet Domenic A. DeBias AKA DAD (Tom Layton). DAD thinks he could probably find the Wizard "if I only had more brains."

The three travelers, spirits high, next visit Microbiology. V. Iralu (Prag DeSai), directs them to 4190, where he suspects the Wiz to be napping on a cholera cot.

On the way, they meet the miserly Virginia Gavigan (Deb Hermany). In the presence of a few dollar bills, she dies. Our cast rejoices with "ding dong that tight-wad witch is dead!"

Fairman Denlinger (Marc Shapiro) startles the trio with the delivery of twins. He feels that the location of the Wiz is a core question to be researched by Dorothy herself. Denlinger joins the others to find "some heart."

At long last, the four reach the Wizard's chambers. The Wizard preaches "from his soapbox" about Osteopathy, but finally agrees to grant their wishes. In a fit of silly laughter, he collapses and reveals his true self to be a marionette manipulated by the cynical Dr. Thome (Jonathan Koukal). Dr. Thome concludes a fiery speech by advising that "90% of your patients will get better in spite of what you do for them."

Fortunately, Dorothy has been convinced of the merits of Osteopathy and is destined to become a naive first-year student at PCOM.

Gene Banker Society

The Gene Banker Society, named for PCOM's first woman graduate, unites the women of PCOM through programs of provocative speakers, public service activities, and social events. The GBS, with its affiliation to the American Medical Women's Association, provided its Class of 1985 members with a welcome-back wine and cheese party in August of 1982 and a discussion of clinical rotations with the third and fourth year members.

Following the installation of officers Ellen Conroy as president, Sally Straneva as vice-president, Mary Conti as treasurer, Mary Jo Eline as secretary, and Donna Miller as historian, the GBS planned a diverse schedule. Lively speakers on "women in medicine," a seminar on financial planning for the physician, an evening of caroling at the Overmont House, and an installation brunch at The Country Lawyer in West Chester highlighted the calendar.

Tact, sympathy and understanding are expected of the physician, for the patient is no mere collection of symptoms, signs, disordered functions, damaged organs, and disturbed emotions. He is human, fearful, and hopeful, seeking relief, help and reassurance. To the physician, as to the anthropologist, nothing human is strange or repulsive. The misanthrope may become a smart diagnostician of organic disease, but he can scarcely hope to succeed as a physician. The true physican has a Shakespearean breadth of interest in the wise and the foolish, the proud and the humble, the stoic hero and the whining rogue. He cares for people.

"To my family and friends - Thanks for all the support and patience over the past four years. Without you, this quest would have been impossible.

To my wife Nancy, who has endured a traumatic four years without a complaint - you have been my lifeline and refuge. I love you."

THANK YOU TO THE PEOPLE WHO GAVE OF THEMSELVES TO MAKE THE DREAM A REALITY:

MOM & DAD: For your unending support, love, and family dedication, and for countless efforts and sacrifices above and beyond the call of parenting. You were the examples and the inspiration.

TO MY WIFE DIANNE: For your constant love and encouragements throughout the hard times and the not quite as hard times. Your understanding, devotion, and many sacrifices were invaluable. I love you...

MY SISTER AND BROTHERS: Diane, David, and Donnie. Our strong bond and special love for each other helped give me the strength and determination.

THE SPECIAL FRIENDS AND RELATIVES: Who gave me their tremendous support and a refuge from the grind: Nana and PopPop; Jim, Joan, and Darrell Albon; Joseph; DeeDee, Cynthia, and Michael; Walt; Class of '85'; the Poker Players; and PCOM for the opportunity.

TO GOD: For the guidance and the meaning

TO ALL, my love and deepest gratitude for without you this goal would not have been possible nor complete.

All of our tomorrows
Will soon be our yesterdays,
As time stands still for no one.
We're all so concerned about the medicine we'll learn,
But we can never lose sight of the fact that we're people;
Mere human beings, mortals as it were, struggling Now to achieve an art and a skill that will give someone, many someones, a chance at living.
Whatever it is that you wish ultimately to be,
remember there is nothing greater than loving, caring, and sharing
And if time were money, how much could you afford
To spend on another human being?

As a child, I had a dream . . . because of the devotion and untold sacrifice of all whom I love so much, my dream is a reality.

To my mother and father, whose love, guidance and faith in me was endless. Our family was an uplifting spirit I so often needed.

To my sisters, Lisa and Laura, whose empathy and patience with an often demanding brother was selfless.

To my fiancee, Charlene, whom I have loved from the first time we met, and will all my life. You stood by my side all along the way and never stopped believing in me. I only hope I can be to you what you have been for me these past four years.

To Charlie, my mentor and friend, who taught me that aspect of being a physician not found in any book. Thank you for your foresight and always open ears.

To my grandmothers, Grandma and Nani, for their prayers on earth and in heaven above. You were an inspiration.

"You cannot separate passion from pathology any more than you can separate a person's spirit from his body. Think of a particular person's spirit and, Presto!, it is immediately incorporated. It has the size and shape of his body. The flesh is the spirit thickened. Gaze long enough at your patients, and from even the driest husk here will fly upward a shower of sparks that, to him who gazes, will coalesce into a little flame. Look . . . and learn that the sick are refugees who must be treated kindly and gravely, without condescension. In the beginning you will love their wounds because they give you the occasion for virtue; later you will love them for their own sake. Rendered helpless by their afflictions, they cherish the memory of fertile lands and cool green glades and the company of love-all the stuff of their former selves. These people know something you and I do not yet know- what it is to live with the painful evidence of your mortality.

Thank you to those who have helped in so many ways to make my dream a reality. A special thank you to my loving wife and children for their endless patience and encouragement. They were always there for me.

The path
that leads to happiness is so narrow
that two cannot walk on it unless they become one.

I can't remember when you weren't there
When I didn't care for anyone but you
I swear we've been through everything there is Can't imagine anything we've missed
Can't imagine anything the two of us can't do
Through the years you've never let me down
You've turned my life around
The sweetest days I've found I've found with you
Through the years I've never been afraid
I've loved the life we've made
And I'm so glad I stayed right here with you—
Through the years.
I can't remember what I used to do, who I trusted,
Who I listened to before
I swear you've taught me everything I know
Can't imagine needing someone so
But through the years it seems to me
I need you more and more
Through the years, through all the good and bad
I knew how much we had
I've always been so glad to be with you
Through the years, it's better every day
You've kissed my tears away
As long as it's okay I'll stay with you—
Through the years.
Through the years when everything went wrong
Together we were strong
I know that I belonged right her with you
Through the years I never had a doubt
We'd always work things out
I learned what love's about by loving you—
Through the years.

When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
Rest, if you must, but don't you quit.
Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure has turned about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up though the pace seems slow
You may succeed with another blow.
Success is failure turned inside out
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit.

No greater opportunity or obligation can fall the lot of a human being than to be a physician. In the care of the suffering he needs technical skill, scientific knowledge, and human understanding. He who uses these with courage, humility, and wisdom will provide a unique service for his fellow man, and will build an enduring edifice of character within himself. The physician should ask of his destiny no more than this, and he should be content with no less.

"This, then, is what I pray, kneeling before the Father, from whom every family, whether spiritual or natural, takes its name:

'Out of His infinite glory may He give you the power through His Spirit for your hidden self to grow strong, so that Christ may live in your hearts through faith, and then, planted in love and built on love, you will with all saints have strength to grasp the breadth and the length, the height and the depth; until, knowing the love of Christ, which is beyond all knowledge, you are filled with the utter fullness of God. Glory be to Him whose power, working in us, can do infinitely more than we can ask or imagine; glory be to Him from every generation to generation in the church and in Christ Jesus for ever and ever. Amen'"

Ephesians 3:14-21
The Jerusalem Bible

Then said a rich man, Speak to us of Giving. And he answered: You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give . . . There are those who have little and give it all. These are the believers in life and the bounty of life, and their coffer is never empty . . . Through the hands of such as these God speaks, and from behind their eyes, He smiles upon the earth.

We see a world on the brink of revolution, and we are afraid. Why? We are the inheritors of a revolutionary tradition. Christ . . . was a revolutionary. He preached change, peaceful change, but still sweeping, rapid, revolutionary change that could not help but bring social change as well . . . His revolutionary idea was that of love, of sharing material goods, of forgiving injury, of laying down our lives and . . . if we do those things, we may find men share more than enough to live with each other in peace, grace and dignity.

IN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I thank the Creator for granting me the wisdom to select the correct path. I thank my father whose standard of excellence lives after him and provides for me a criterion by which I may judge my own achievements. Finally, I especially thank my mother who unselfishly devoted her life to providing me with unbounded love, understanding and unceasing friendship and advice when others turned away. She taught me truth and fairness while exposing the impostors and stood by me in my triumphs and my disasters.

Although I will never adequately be able to repay what they have done for me, I hope that in my practice of Osteopathic Medicine I prove myself worthy of their interest and efforts.

"It becomes every person who purposes to give himself to the care of others, seriously to consider the four following things: First, that he must one day give an account to the Supreme Judge of all the lives entrusted to his care. Second, that all his skill and knowledge and energy, as they have been given him by God, so they should be exercised for His glory and the good of mankind, and not for mere gain or ambition. Third, and not more beautifully than truly, let him reflect that he has undertaken the care of no mean creature; for, in order that he may estimate the value, the greatness of the human race, the only begotten son of God became himself a man, and thus ennobled it with His divine dignity, and far more than this, died to redeem it. And fourth, that the doctor being himself a mortal human being, should be diligent and tender in relieving his suffering patients, inasmuch as he himself must one day be a like sufferer."

Let me do it whice I can,
No delay, for it is plain
I shall not pass this way again.

The Human Touch

'Tis the human touch in this world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine,
Which means far more to the failing heart
Than shelter and bread and wine;
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er,
And bread lasts only a day,
But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice
Sing on in the soul alway.

All About Me

My full name is Alfred Marchetti.
My friends call me Alf.
My birthday is October 4, 1960.
I am 8 years old.
I am in the third grade at school.

When I grow up, I'd like to be a Doctor.
I'd like to be this because you'll make lots of people better.
I like being my age because I can be in school and work.

I don't like being my age because I can't be a Doctor yet.

The clock of life

And no one has the power
To tell when the hand will stop-

Place no faith in tomorrow-
For the clock may then be still!

Crystal latticed dreams are the dowry paid at midnight striking weddings.

* * * *

My mate is a yearling doe
pausing cautiously in the vapors of dawn.
There is in her glance a mixture of grace and warfare divinely balanced,
so that I, the thrice felted,
tremble as I have not done
since the world first beheld my spots.

What passes for knowledge in ordinary life suffers from three defects: it is cocksure, vague, and self-contradictory.
- B. Russell

The lotus flower is a symbol of purity and integrity.
The flower, rising from muddy soil, seeks the sunlight
and blossoms above the water, untarnished by the darkness of its journey.

Dale,

Only you know the extent of the sacrifices, hard work, anxious moments, and anticipation that were a part of this dream come true. You were there beside me providing strength, encouragement, reassurance and support. For this I give you always my love, my home, my hopes and aspirations for the future—MYSELF.

I love you,

Everyone I know deserves many thanks for helping me achieve what I originally thought was an impossibility.

My mother, father and sister whose confidence, emotional strength, understanding and love was sincerely appreciated during the trying times.

My friends, who made the bad times better and the good times the best.

And my wife Patty, who deserves all the credit, for it was her sacrifice that far outweighed my own.

These are the individuals who made my dream a reality. They brought out the best in me.

OSTEOPATHIC OATH

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter. I will be mindful of my responsibility to preserve the health and life of my patients, to perform faithfully my professional duties.

I will be vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive co-operation.

I will look with respect and esteem
upon all those who have taught me my art.
I will be loyal to my college and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me.
I will be alert to further the application of basic biologic truths and to develop the principles of Osteopathic Medicine.

Kristy Smiles

Kristy smiles
and all of a sudden you know
why the sun warms the earth
on cool December days,
why the rain falls softly
like a blanket of love,
why dandelions grow wild, free
and beautiful
why someone petite
translates into perfect,
why munchkin laughter
and quick surprises
diminish fear
anxiety- and pain.
Kristy smiles
and you understand why God would want her near him;
too.

SILENCE - By Kristy E. Wyche

Sleep is silent
When you turn out the lights
Talking quiet
When someone's sleeping
Walking quiet
In a museum
Whispering

My Dearest Kristy,
You asked me at graduation
if you could have this.

It's not mine, it's ours,
it's yours forever.....

An Osteopathic Community Hospital

You're nearly finished with your undergraduate osteopathic training. A demanding but satisfying experience. Now you must choose a graduate program that suits your personal and professional needs. Not an easy decision. How do you approach such evaluation?

If you want an abundance of hands-on clinical experience in your graduate training, you'll find it with Flint Osteopathic Hospital. FOH is at the center of osteopathic medical care in the south-central region of Michigan.

In size, volume and diversity of procedures FOH is one of the nation's leading health care institutions.

Annual Statistics

20,000 Admissions
2,000 Obstetric deliveries
12,000 Surgeries
8,500 Inpatient, 3,500 Outpatient
30,000 ER visits
6,000 Internal Medicine Procedures

The hospital's 155-member medical staff is representative of family practitioners as well as the patient-care specialties.

Working under the supervision of these department heads and attending physicians, you will have responsibility for diagnosis and treatment of patients assigned to your care.

And.... a high-quality graduate education requires far more than clinical experience. Almost 200 distinguished educators from the medical professions come to FOH each year as part of a unique educational format. This puts you on the cutting edge of medical knowledge through contact with the academic minds that are making medical advancement possible.

We welcome your inquiry.
